The hunting grounds

We have more 12000km<sup>2</sup> in Swedish Lapland. Almost big as Belgium. Here are we hunting Capercaillie, Black grouse, Ptarmigan (willow grouse UK), Rock Ptarmigan, Hazel grouse,

The Hunting

To hunt Capercaillie over pointers demand quite a lot from you as a hunter. When the dog has the smell of the Capercaillie in here or his nose. It will show us as hunter with a point or a track. And if it's a track, the dog will take it up. Here is a difference between dogs. Some will take the tracks slowly and some fast. The most important is the co-operation between the dog and the hunter. It's great when you can read what the dog will do and where it will go. Really often is it good to be below the dog and tracks, if you hunt close to a hill, wish we do a lot up here at the Arctic Circle. Our hunting ground demand also that you are in a quite good shape. If you are 2 hunters can you watch each side of the dog.
