

Ptarmigan hunt with pointing dog

Out at the wilderness - In Swedish Lapland

Hunting with pointing dog in Swedish Lapland

Ptarmigan (willow grouse)

Arctic Charter offers you hunting with pointing dogs for ptarmigan (willow grouse UK) at the Arctic Circle in the Swedish Lapland mountain area.

The hunting ground is at our state ground in the famous Arjeplog mountain area. Here have we been hunting with pointing dogs since 1980 and the area is 12500km² large. We have all possibilities to take us out far away from nearest road with helicopter and boat. We have accommodation in cottage or traditional Sami tents.

All our guides are locals and have really good knowledge about the whole area. We are only conjunction with the best guides and companies; wish guarantees you for a successful hunt and a great holiday in our part of the world.

Your guide (if you use own dogs)

Will work as you're privately guy who has the knowledge of the hunting -ground, arrange all transfer etc. If you don't mind he could have his pointing dog with him as a backup. Possibly it will be me.

Bag limits

We have together with the government taking a decision for a bag limit of 8-ptarmigan (willow grouse) and 3-capercaillie or black grouse. No limit for woodcock and Hazel grouse.
