Often is the ground "snow" really hard that you will easily walk on it, sometimes we use skis. We have more 12000km² in Swedish Lapland, almost big as Belgium. Here we hunt Capercaillie, Black grouse, Ptarmigan (willow grouse UK), Rock Ptarmigan, Hazel grouse,

The Hunting

To hunt Rock Ptarmigan demands quite a lot from you as a hunter. It is physical to walk, ski, in the mountains, even if the mountains are not as high as the Alps. We use our binoculars and our ears to locate the rock ptarmigan. We try to come close, normally not closer than 60 meters. To get a great shot with our rifle. We can also put out some snare if you would like to try an older hunting method, that we used long time ago here in the north.
